

ONLINE ONE-ON-ONE PRIVATE PHILOSOPHY SESSIONS and MENTORSHIP with Miha Andrič

Learn.
Think.
Speak.
Write.

PROGRAM: WHAT will you do?

This program is designed to be fully individualized and personalized, tailored to each student's needs, interests, and capabilities. The content of the sessions is customized in collaboration with Mr. Andrič, ensuring a focused and effective learning experience.

With Mr. Andrič, you will explore specific fields of philosophy, key authors, and essential concepts of your choice while developing strong argumentative and academic speaking and writing skills. The program includes detailed feedback on your ideas, essays, comments on your work, and mentorship in your reading process.

Students typically use these sessions to:

- Deepen their understanding of philosophy and connect it to economics, politics, and literature.
- Work on research papers.
- Prepare for undergraduate or master's programs.
- Prepare for essay competitions or any other goal they have.

SCHEDULE AND METHODS: HOW will you do it?

Your schedule will be fully flexible and customized, accommodating your availability and other commitments. The length, frequency, and number of sessions are entirely based on your agreement with Mr. Andrič and can be adjusted as needed. Mr. Andrič offers 24/7 availability for scheduling and rescheduling sessions, ensuring a highly adaptable and student-centered learning experience.

PRICING

The standard price for one session is €120. For students who book more than 10 sessions, the price is reduced to €100 per session. Payments are made only after sessions have been completed, typically in blocks of four sessions.

ABOUT MIHA ANDRIČ

Miha Andrič is a philosopher and international trainer on argumentation and communication with a global impact on philosophical education, argumentation, and critical thinking. He has lectured in over 50 countries and currently serves as Director of the Educational Centre Argument (Europe). A key figure in international philosophy education, he is on the Executive Board of the International Philosophy Olympiad (IPO) and an Advisory Board Member of the International Public Policy Forum (IPPF, NYC).

As a recognized expert in philosophical pedagogy, he has co-authored books on philosophical argumentation and led international programs that integrate debate and philosophy in the classroom.

Andrič has spoken at major global forums, including a keynote on Fairness in Economic Competition (2023) and a panel with Noam Chomsky and Michael Sandel on utopia and fairness (2022). He continues to shape philosophical discourse and education worldwide through lectures, publications, and leadership in international philosophy and debate initiatives.

CONTACT:

miha.andric@live.com
+386 41 624038

Education Center Argument
info@centerargument.si